Estratto: .they weep thensight away. He will not deny himself. He has taken his stand in the midst of humanity, and his proclamation is, If any man thirst, let him come unto me. He that asks Christ to give him a white stone with a name written in it known to the recipient only, promising as a return for such a gift to believe upon the Saviour, asks and promises in vain. This stone cannot possibly be given except to faith. It is faith alone that can discern either the stone or the name written therein. It is not, Take and believe, but, Believing, take. The believer comes to Christ because he recognises his love to sinners, and knows himself to be one of these sinners. Afterward, it may be, he learns that, having been drawn of the Father, he did not come to Christ, that Christ, besides having invited the multitude to which he belonged, had chosen him individually to everlasting life, and that in fact the entire history of his awakening, repenting, believing, is neither more nor less than the history of the means by which Christ's own choice was carried into effect. Your choice of Christ is the evidence of Christ's choice of you. You have not to ascend into heaven, and make your way to the place where a glorified Christ sits enthroned, in order to ascertain what are Christ's desires;...
