Perry Township. 289. This township lies north and west of Toby township, east of Armstrong county from which it is separated by the Allegheny river, and south of the Clarion river which parts it from Richland township. A high ridge taking its course southeastwardly through the township from the mouth of the Clarion river merges with a similar divide coming northeastwardly from Monterey becomes the Clarion-Red Bank divide. 290. The Freeport group of coals, limestones and ores is caught in the summits along these dividing ridges, but its area is necessarily very circumscribed. The Kittanning group of coals occupies most of the land, but the area covered by the Clarion group is also of considerable size. The Ferriferous limestone presents many miles of outcrop line, but its overlying ore-bed is thin and is only valuable over a very...

Reviews

Extensive information for book fans. It is written in basic words and never hard to understand. It is extremely difficult to leave it before concluding, once you begin to read the book.
